Our Application Experts

Our sales team is comprised of product experts and they know how difficult and frustrating some applications can be. If you would like to draw from our experience, Mars Supply is the place to start.

We Help Apply What You Buy

Mars Supply employs a highly knowledgeable team of product specialists with hundreds of years of combined experience. We are a resource for a number of technical product categories that include Cutting Tools, Safety, Power Transmission, Gaging, Conveyor Belt, and Hose plus much more.

One of the keys to our success over the past 100 years, is our commitment to helping you apply the products you buy from us. We are not just a transactional distributor that takes orders, ships and invoices. We have product experts who can help recommend the right product for the job and who can help you apply it correctly. So, if you need technical assistance with Abrasives, Cutting Tools, Fire and Rescue Gear, Gaging, Power Transmission and Hose or Safety Products complete the Contact Us form on our website. We will respond quickly.
